COURSE OVERVIEW

This course is designed for students who have completed beginner level Vietnamese or have an equivalent level of proficiency. Students continue to develop knowledge of Vietnamese culture and people will be developed through idioms, proverbs, and stories. Some basic aspects of history and religion will also be introduced. Students’ knowledge of Vietnamese pronunciation and grammar will be strengthened. Furthermore, students are required to practice written structured paragraphs and essays.

Throughout the course the methodology of communicative approach is used to ensure that students will obtain a high level of linguistic and communicative competence. Vietnamese is the language of instruction so questions and concerns that require using English are given after class time and during office hours.
LEARNING OUTCOMES
Upon completion of this course, students will be able to

Interpersonal communication:
- maintain spontaneous spoken and written conversations and discussions across various time frames on familiar, as well as unfamiliar, concrete topics, using series of connected sentences and probing questions
- exchange information in conversations and some discussions on a variety of familiar and some concrete topics that they have researched, using connected sentences that may combine to form paragraphs and asking a variety of questions, often across various time frames
- interact with others to meet their needs in a variety of situations, sometimes involving a complication, using connected sentences that may combine to form paragraphs and asking a variety of questions
- explain preferences, opinions, and emotions and provide advice on a variety of familiar and some concrete topics that they have researched, using connected sentences that may combine to form paragraphs and asking a variety of questions

Presentational communication (speaking and writing):
- communicate information, make presentations, and express my thoughts about familiar topics, using sentences and series of connected sentences through spoken and written language
- tell stories about school and community events and personal experiences, using a few short paragraphs, often across various time frames
- state their viewpoint on familiar or researched topics and provide reasons to support it, using a few short paragraphs, often across various time frames
- give detailed presentations on a variety of familiar topics and some concrete topics they have researched, using a few short paragraphs, often across various time frames

Interpretive communication (listening and reading):
- understand main ideas and some pieces of information on familiar topics from sentences and series of connected sentences within texts that are spoken or written
- usually follow main messages in straightforward, and sometimes descriptive, paragraph-length informational texts
- usually follow the main story and actions expressed in paragraph-length fictional texts

COURSE POLICIES

- Be on time. If you cannot be early, be on time. Let the moderator know if you are going to be late or absent.
- Be professional. You are having a class with your teacher, classmates, and guest experts. Make a good impression. Take a few minutes to make yourself presentable and dress appropriately.
- Take an active part. Do not talk over someone. Raise your hand if there is no opening to speak. Type questions and feedback in the chat.
- Mute your microphone when not speaking.
- Turn on your camera during class time.
- Make sure to test the audio and video before the session starts.
- Use a private, in-home workspace that is well-lit.
  - Be sure that there is nothing visually distracting in the background.
  - Minimize the background noise, e.g., barking dogs, sounds from television or radio.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

- Students are obligated to preview and read vocabulary explanations and grammar notes of an assigned lesson prior to coming to class.
- Students are encouraged to discuss with the instructor after class at office hours about any point of confusion.

RULES, RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES
See the Guide’s Rules, Rights and Responsibilities

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
By enrolling in this course, each student assumes the responsibilities of an active participant in UW-Madison’s community of scholars in which everyone’s academic work and behavior are held to the highest academic integrity standards. Academic misconduct compromises the integrity of the university. Cheating, fabrication, plagiarism, unauthorized collaboration, and helping others commit these acts are examples of academic misconduct, which can result in disciplinary action. This includes but is not limited to failure on the assignment/course, disciplinary probation, or suspension. Substantial or repeated cases of misconduct will be forwarded to the Office of Student Conduct & Community Standards for additional review. For more information, refer to studentconduct.wiscweb.wisc.edu/academic-integrity/.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES
McBurney Disability Resource Center syllabus statement: “The University of Wisconsin-Madison supports the right of all enrolled students to a full and equal educational opportunity. The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), Wisconsin State Statute (36.12), and UW-Madison policy (Faculty Document 1071) require that students with disabilities be reasonably accommodated in instruction and campus life. Reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities is a shared faculty and student responsibility. Students are expected to inform faculty [me] of their need for instructional accommodations by the end of the third week of the semester, or as soon as possible after a disability has been incurred or recognized. Faculty [I], will work either directly with the student [you] or in coordination with the McBurney Center to identify and provide reasonable instructional accommodations. Disability information, including instructional accommodations as part of a student's educational record, is confidential and protected under FERPA.” http://mcburney.wisc.edu/facstaff/faculty/syllabus.php

DIVERSITY & INCLUSION
Institutional statement on diversity: “Diversity is a source of strength, creativity, and innovation for UW-Madison. We value the contributions of each person and respect the profound ways their identity, culture, background, experience, status, abilities, and opinion enrich the university community. We commit ourselves to the pursuit of excellence in teaching, research, outreach, and diversity as inextricably linked goals.

The University of Wisconsin-Madison fulfills its public mission by creating a welcoming and inclusive community for people from every background – people who as students, faculty, and staff serve Wisconsin and the world.” https://diversity.wisc.edu/
